ABOUT RUSHFORD BUSINESS SCHOOL

The Rushford Doctor of Business Administration (DBA) is a 180 ECTS credits doctoral program designed to equip business students, managers, practitioners, and leaders with high-level knowledge, research, and analytical skills so that they can apply these personal and professional attributes to solve the most complex business problems. In contrast to programs at the master level, the DBA program focuses on the application of theory to real-world business challenges. Students are expected to go through a transformative learning process that enhances their research skills, so they view business situations differently with an emphasis on applying research methods and finding solutions that lead to organizational efficiency, growth, and long-term sustainability.

AIM OF THE PROGRAM

The Rushford DBA program focuses on applied research so that executives, managers, and practitioners can start applying what they learn in Business and the chosen specialization in the program in their organizations in real-time. We focus on ensuring that our students develop a very high level of expertise in all areas of business and finance. The coursework will also focus on the enhancement of research skills, writing skills, presentation skills, critical and analytical thinking skills, and change management skills.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

The doctoral candidates will be able to:

- Interpret the existing situation, implement relevant business models to interpret the new scenarios to create new paradigms of knowledge.

- Research and extend existing literature to promote the discipline's evolution to the next level.

- Acquire the body of knowledge in a systematic manner that enables the adequate comprehension and develop in-depth understanding of a discipline under consideration that allows you to evaluate further information in a critical manner.

- Design an appropriate research methodology which synchronizes the philosophical paradigms with the research topic and allows derivation of suitable recommendations which have been justified.

- Create new knowledge and provide recommendations which have been derived with the wider reading and its comprehension in a critical manner, and conduct the analysis using the tools which are appropriate for the collated data.

PROGRAM LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Apply research methodologies to study the business situations and address business challenges

Conduct primary and secondary research to understand business challenges

Apply deep understanding of relevant business and financial theory and practices to predict outcomes

Develop a high level of command over business communications

Articulate complex ideas, strategies, plans, and tactics in a clear and effective manner

Develop a high level of proficiency in creating meaningful reports that use data collection, data cleaning, data interpretation, and engaging reporting with the use of data visualization

Engage in academic and professional research activities that may lead to publications in Peer Reviewed Journals

Develop high-level proficiency in applying robust research methodologies, study design, and study conduct in producing a thesis at the end of the program as part of the requirement for the conferring of the doctorate qualification.
